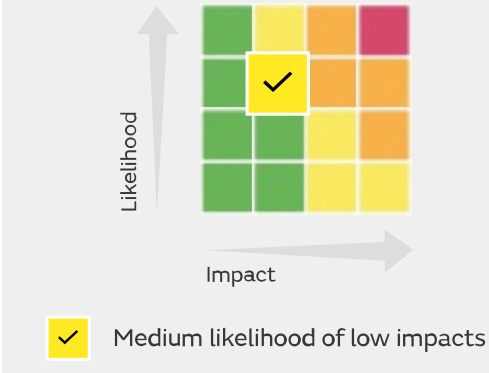
Icy surfaces and high ground snow leading to some difficult travelling conditions in places on Saturday night and Sunday morning.

What to expect

- Some injuries from slips and falls on icy surfaces
- Probably some ice on some untreated roads, pavements and cycle paths

Further details

Frequent showers, falling as snow above around 400 metres with accumulations of 5-10 cm across the Southern Uplands, will gradually ease overnight with clear spells developing across northern Scotland initially, extending further south towards the end of Saturday night. This will allow wet surfaces to fall below freezing leading to some icy stretches on untreated surfaces.



Medium likelihood of low impacts
